

FLAHERTY WELCOMES ASSOCIATE ELIZABETH L. KING

News October 2022

Flaherty is pleased to welcome Elizabeth L. King to the firm's Charleston office. Elizabeth is a member of our healthcare law practice group. She has focused her practice on providing legal counsel to various healthcare clients, including hospitals, private practices, physicians, and nurses.

Elizabeth majored in elementary education but decided on law school due to her love of reading and writing. She particularly enjoys researching to find legal precedent that will help her clients. Before joining the firm this fall, Elizabeth was one of our summer associates in 2021.
